If I could stand
Still on the hill and never move my hand;
No, never beckon, no, nor wave my dress,
But only wait in heavy breathlessness—
Just stand
Still on the hill and never move my hand—
He might come up for balm; he might go down,
Careless and comforted, to town.

LOST

Forever lost, like birds forever flying,
Searching bleak space;
Circling, and with the south-wind crying
Across earth's face:

Arrowed I fly, and like them lost forever;
Having once seen
Scarlet in a jungle, by a deep river—
Scarlet and green.

FOUND

I have moved west; I travel with the sun—
You cannot hold, you cannot hinder me.
There is no end for what I have begun,
There are no resting-places where I run
Until I am surrendered to the sea.
